 | Hello! August has been a very busy month!

Practices have been going well, we've had 4 weekly practices with 9, 6, 10, and 11 archers. The loaner gear has been getting lots of use recently, and we have several new and enthusiastic participants!

We had an event! Archos Athelina Grey was the MIC for archery and both Archos Athelina and Baroness Anikó ran competition shoots at the event. Congratulations to Esa inghean Alasdair for winning the "equity shoot", to Aonghus Keith for winning "SNAILS", and to all the archers who participated! Thank you to all the marshals, event organizers, and set up and tear down volunteers for making archery at the event possible.

At least one bracer from the event has wandered off, if anyone happens to find an extra bracer that does not belong to them, please let us know!

One cardboard target has been fixed up as it got soggy at the event, and a couple stands have been mended and retrofitted for use with the new cardboard rounds. Thank you to Baron Wulfgar and Baroness Anikó for doing that maintenance!

I have been continuing my work on mending and rematching straggles of loaner arrows - this will likely keep me occupied for some time yet.

The inventory of the range is making progress and is still underway.

The committee I am heading for investigating the options for archery targets moving forward in Seagirt is underway. Thank you to:

Archos Athelina Grey

Baroness Anikó Melyes

Baron Wulfgar Bradax

Milord Azriel Di Cabra

Honorable Lord Cáemgen mac Garbith ui Andrais

Milord Adalwolf Jeger

Mistress Tatiana Alexsieva

Lady Esa inghean Alasdair

Archos Tymme Lytefelow

Viscount Kheron Azov

Lord Beorn Bjulfrsson

Lady Iaroslava Borisova

for volunteering to take part in this. We plan to have something to present at the next council in October.

This office has been asked to look for indoor sites for a winter range. If you have any leads on such a location, please let me know! I expect both finding and operating a covered site to be more challenging given the pandemic, but even if we don't end up being able to utilize the space this year, it would be great for the Barony to have something set up for going forward. Sheltered but not walled may be easiest pandemic-wise.

The Branch Marshal has made a request for the Thrown Weapons and Archery practices to be held concurrently instead of sequentially. We have investigated and concluded this is not feasible at this time. We currently lack both the available space at the range site and the volunteer resources to run both separately instead of doubling up jobs to run them back to back.

The Branch Marshal has made a request for Thrown Weapons and Archery practices to be moved so that there is more commute time available to get to Heavy Combat practices for participants who might like to do both. We have moved the missile practices both an hour earlier starting September 5th, and the Heavy Combat practice is being moved back an hour.

Thrown Weapons – Athelina Grey 2019-05-07

Greetings! There's lots to report in thrown weapons!

We've been averaging 6 people at thrown practices! Lots of new throwers, some folks keen to learn marshaling. Adalwolf has expressed interest in working towards his Sr TWM over the next year or so! He also made us some new target stands and we got to test them out! Thank you!

We've been throwing and submitting scores for the Thrown Weapons Interkingdom Competition. This competition is Society-wide, and lets throwers focus on one type of throwing weapon (like archers can pick a bow type for RR's/ IKAC for each time they do it).

The SCA scores site crashed and passwords have to be reset: if you're a marshal who inputs scores, you'll need to reset your password if you haven't yet.

Interkingdom discussion on a universal format for a Royal Round is continuing: currently the many-kingdom development committee has agreed on a format, and it's now being reviewed by kingdom thrown weapons marshals to see which kingdoms want to adopt it. It would be a big change for An Tir: currently most other kingdoms have Thrown Weapons Royal Rounds that only have a few throws at ten feet, but then also a few throws at other farther distances too. Many other kingdoms have formats where throwers pick a weapon type and use that for their royal round (and then could do another with a different weapon later if they want, but it's not mix and match). An Tir's TW Royal Round format currently requires throwers to throw a huge 60 times in a row: 20 with each of knife, axe, and spear, all at 10 feet. This can be prohibitive in several ways: throwers need all three weapons (and we can't share right now in Tir Righ), the range needs all the target types, and throwers have to throw 60 times (plus warm up in any/all weapons before they start, as warm ups are not allowed in between while scoring) which can be really inaccessible. Most of the other kingdoms are shocked at how "hardcore" the RR's for throwing are in An Tir. It'll be interesting to see if An Tir chooses to adopt the proposed universal format, which would allow throwers from all kingdoms to have a standard for measuring progress and prowess. (I mean... there is the TWIC already... but I think a lot of places forget that tournament type exists?) The addition of 15' and 20' for axe and knife throwing is a fun challenge so far! (We're doing those distances in addition to 10', expanding our skills!)

We have moved thrown/archery an hour earlier to give folks more time to get to the Duncan fight practice which I believe was going to move a bit later to reduce overlap in times. At this time, we do not have enough resources to run archery and thrown at the same time, but we're considering ways to move towards that in the next year or two if possible.

Also an axe handle broke, but that is super normal - no incident, no injuries, rather like breaking an arrow.

Whee!

Oh! Also we had an event. Right.

Please see attached MIC report for that. We threw at snails. Several new folks helped defeat the invading snail army! And Lord Dankvart killed the most snails!

Yay!

Yay throwing!

- Financial committee approved for the Zoom account renewed as we do not know what the next year or so will entail and there was a discount if we renewed quickly.

Chamberlain – Runa Dagsdottir – 2020-11-03

Seamus and Lenora have found some resin shelving they would like to pick up to help organize our stores bins. They are $38.88 from Walmart. This would make finding and accessing the bins more efficient.

YIS

Runa Dagsdottir

- Motion to purchase at least 1 $44~ post tax collapsible shelving (36” x 18” x 72”), could be useful to have for organization in stores.

Announcements:

I stepped up in this role just as COVID restrictions were starting, and as such never needed to worry about things like field heraldry and court heraldry. As I freely admit that these activities are well outside my wheelhouse, and as some semblance of the resumption of events is in the works, it is time to recruit some deputies. Anyone interested in being a field deputy, court deputy, or both, please reach out to me.

I also need a contingency deputy.

For Discussion:

- Funds ($10) for the submission of alternate populace badge, (Fieldless) An orca naiant per fess sable and argent
- Do we want to update our badge for 'Army of Seagirt' from (Fieldless) A sea-wolf per fess argent and azure to (Fieldless) A sea-wolf argent tailed azure to match the Sergeant, Scholar, etc. badges?
- When the badges for Sergeant, Scholar, Courtier, and Forester were submitted, the associations (Seagirt Sergeants, etc.) were intended as generic identifiers. When the badges were registered, the acceptance letter suggested that they could actually be registered, using the form Company of the Sergeants of Seagirt or Worshipful Company of the Sergeants of Seagirt. Do we want to register them?

Events/Meetings:

- August 1, I attended the Wreath Decision Meeting, where the Society-level decisions on armory submissions are made.
- August 8, I attended the Pelican Decision Meeting, where the Society-level decisions on name submissions are made.
